Rated 5 out of 5 by musicdirector from Great In Low-Light Environments This is an Apple keyboard with different keys installed. Another Editor bought one at the same time and feels the same I'll be buying another for a second system and think I'm going for the black type on yellow background to compare. Additionally, two built-in USB ports on the keyboard allow for desktop expansion. While this makes the keyboard ideal for visually impaired individuals, it also makes it easier to type accurately under any lighting conditions.

NOT a look alike! I bought the white type on black background and use this keyboard in my studio for editing music for film & television and it makes using the keyboard commands much easier for me. While this makes the keyboard ideal for visually impaired individuals, it also makes it easier to type accurately under any lighting conditions.
